The future of Financial Management and COVID -19 is celebrated on 27th and 28th November 2020 as a part of the celebration of World Investor Week. The programme commenced with the warm inaugural session. The welcome address was given by Dr. Rashmi Gujrati In-charge Student Welfare.

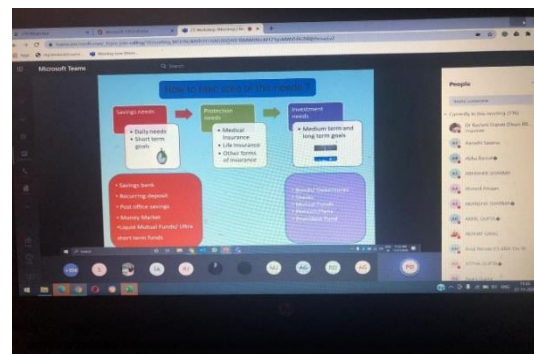

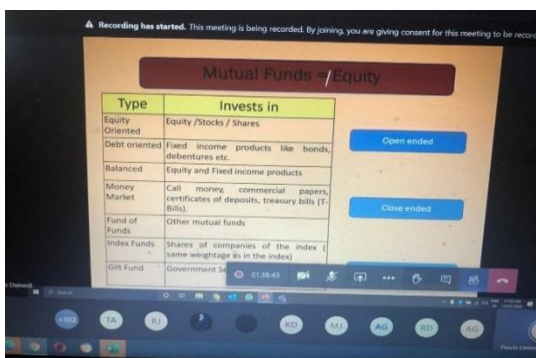

Mr. Pravin Kumar Dwivedi, President Awoke India Group, discussed various economic and social changes going on in the industry during this pandemic situation. He told that there are lot many changes going on in the financial sector. He added that in the past, securing investment and avoiding risk was something of utmost importance for advisors and in times of uncertainty, it is essential to move money most securely and professionally. He also said that the changing demand may predict fluctuations that are made by companies and it may help the companies to make the best decisions.

He shared that this pandemic has accelerated the need for the digital transformation of the financial sector from moderate to an urgent need. He stressed that today, there is an urgent need to readapt companies to this new reality and take advantage of new technologies that allow us to do. He told that the financial industry has invested a lot in digitalization in the past few years, new software and tools have helped to generate more efficient, transparent, and useful communication between businesses and customers. Then he discussed the concept of investment, an investment is a financial asset bought with the idea that the asset will provide income further or will later be sold at a higher cost price for a profit.

He shared that there are various types of investments: stocks, bonds, mutual funds, index funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), and options so it is important for us to invest and the earlier we start the better it is. He added that this is mainly on account of two reasons. One, we save for a longer period and invest more amount of funds. The second reason—and it is critical—is the power of compounding, which helps if the investment horizon is long.

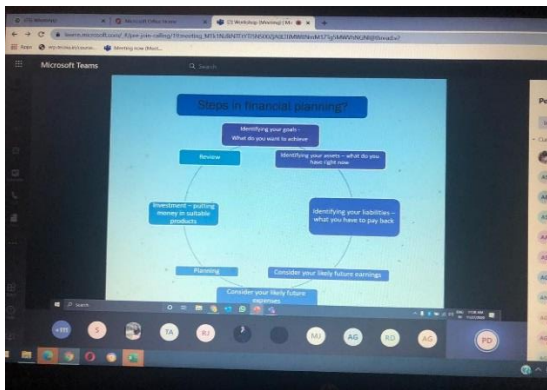

He further told that while investing is a process, you can further improve the same by identifying your financial goals and making your investment centric to your financial needs. He stressed that this streamlining will ensure that the investments are in synergy with financial goals. He also added that there are three pillars to any investment: safety, returns, and liquidity; and any investment to be made for any specific goal needs to be prioritized on these factors.
