INTRODUCTION

Indian academics have gone through a thorough discussion and implications of 'New Education Policy' which was launched in the year 2020. The entire academic model of education is all set to take a new shape and as a result new opportunities are emerging from it.

This 'New Education Policy' is not only the replacement of the old education policy of 1986, but according to the emerging time and space it's a new foundation of education to reach towards the students and scholars. The 'New Education Policy' is acutely considering the significance of human value in education.

This newly adopted policy clearly mentioned that truth, peace, non-violence, love, and righteous conduct would be the vital part of education. What is required is education about religion, their basics, values inherent in them, and comparative study of philosophy of all religions.

This conference would take up all these issues which is related to moral aspects in the 'New Education Policy' especially with context to media education.
