

E4 - CODE / BESPOKE

Provoke | Invoke | Evoke | Bespoke

This raises the curtains on E4.

/ A quick recap:

In E1: you were 'provoked' to answer how much do you need and what for?

In E2: you were left 'invoked' with neuroplasticity and how in this age, your minds are mapped with your life in a strait jacket leading you and with no opportunity to refer to the mirror. Pied piper leads you.

Six-Sigma of Happiness

How not just you but even the corporations that you work for, suffer from neuroplasticity in their quest for redemption of YoY or QoQ. These in turn are chased by stock markets that suffer from their desire for more equally!

The question and the quest remains : “how much does one need and what for?”

In E3, we brought us Magic to cut through the custard and recalibrate our minds around just the 6 primal progenitors of the universe to prepare you to face ourselves.

The ‘what’, the ‘when’, the ‘where’, the ‘why’, the ‘how’ and the ‘who’.

All the yarn spun in the world has been across those six spindles.

We then 'evoked' an understanding of the labyrinthine algorithms of desire that are introduced to crawl under your skin as your own, while the crocodiles are raised and then culled and degreased and dehaired and desalted to deliver desire; Avant-garde.

How our technology has enhanced our forecasting and predictabilities and killed the magic in 'curiosity' replacing it with 'anxiety'.

A life blinkered by targets today is spent in a strait jacketed chase while in contrast to an unblinkered life of the yore that left enough elbow room to rest and ponder and reset the sails.

/ Happiness Finale

