Tecnia Institute of Advanced Studies (TIAS). The competition was open to students from various academic disciplines, including BJMC, BBA, BCA, and MBA. A total of 40 students participated in the competition, making it a vibrant and engaging event.

Activity Description: The competition required participants to write original articles addressing the topic of the role of the internet in promoting gender equality. The participants were encouraged to showcase their perspectives, research, and critical thinking skills in their articles. They had to articulate their ideas effectively and present well-structured arguments supporting their viewpoints. The event aimed to foster a deep understanding of the challenges and opportunities associated with gender inclusivity online.

First Three Winners: After careful evaluation of the articles submitted by the participants, the panel of judges announced the first three winners of the Article Writing Competition on the Role of the Internet to Promote Gender Equality. The winners are as follows:

First Place: Ms. Neha Sharma (BJMC) Article Title: "Harnessing the Power of the Internet: Empowering Women for Gender Equality" Ms. Neha Sharma's article stood out for its insightful analysis, well-researched content, and clear articulation of ideas. She effectively highlighted the internet's potential as a catalyst for empowering women and promoting gender equality. Her article was a compelling call to action for leveraging digital platforms to bridge gender gaps.

Second Place: Mr. Rahul Kapoor (MBA) Article Title: "Digital Equality: Unleashing the Internet's Potential for Gender Inclusivity" Mr. Rahul Kapoor's article showcased a strong understanding of the topic, supported by relevant examples and comprehensive research. His writing demonstrated a persuasive argument for utilising the internet as a tool to overcome gender-based barriers and create a more inclusive digital landscape.

Third Place: Ms. Priya Verma (BBA) Article Title: "Breaking Digital Barriers: The Role of the Internet in Advancing Gender Equality" Ms. Priya Verma's article impressed the judges with its coherent structure, well-
