Report: Description in (min 250 to max 800 words)***

The EBSB club of Tecnia Institute of Advanced Studies (TIAS), Rohini has organized an event, "ETHNIC WEAR COMPETITION" on 23 NOVEMBER, 2023 at 11:00 am. The event was conducted in the Multipurpose Hall at ground floor, TIAS. There were 18 students who enthusiastically participated in the event.

First of all Nodal Officer Dr. Pooja Jangra introduced themselves to participants and then give a brief introduction about the club to the students. Then, the main aim of organising this event was explained by the student coordinator Sayam who is an active member of the club. After this student were asked to showcase the attire, they were wearing and were asked to explain the importance it holds in their culture, society and life. In addition to this, students also gave a musical touch to this event by reciting song and short quotes related to the attire there were wearing. Two students Bhaskar and Krishan from BCA 1st year gave a rapping performance which help them to build up the self-confidence to face the audience in future.

In conclusion, the Nodal officer with joint efforts of participants and student coordinator made a great effort to make this event successful. Students got a chance to interact with roots of their culture and traditions which were deeply entrenched in the society. Also, in addition to all this students added a new rites to their attitude that each attire has its own importance and they should respect each cast, religion and there ethnic dressing sense also.

Feedback: The participants' enthusiasm for learning about the cultures of Sikkim and Delhi is remarkable. They also gain confidence by presenting the traditional cultures of Delhi through the ethnic wear associated with different religions prevalent in the city. Moreover, students learn about the importance of their own traditional culture and its historical origins. Ultimately, both students and faculty members glean valuable lessons from this program.
