Report: Description in (min 250 to max 800 words)*

On 9 December, 2023, the Happiness Club organized a Empowering women to develop strong saving habits is crucial for fostering financial independence, improving household stability, and contributing to community development. This outreach activity, titled "Empowering Women on Building Saving Habits," aimed to educate women on the importance of saving money, teach them practical strategies for budgeting and financial management, and encourage the creation of self-help savings groups (SHGs). Through financial literacy training and hands-on activities, this initiative sought to provide women with the tools and knowledge they need to secure their financial futures.. The event comprised multiple sessions focused on key areas such as effective study techniques, time management, goal setting, financial literacy, and stress management. Expert facilitators led interactive sessions that combined theoretical knowledge with practical application. Participants engaged in group discussions, hands-on activities, and real-life scenario analyses, making the learning process dynamic and impactful. The workshops emphasized the importance of a balanced approach to education, integrating cognitive skills with emotional and social competencies. The event also included motivational talks from successful individuals who shared their personal journeys and insights, inspiring attendees to pursue their goals with determination and resilience. Resources and materials were provided to support continued learning and development beyond the workshops.
