Report: Description in (min 250 to max 800 words)*

The ELC club of Tecnia Institute of Advanced Studies (TIAS), Rohini has organized an event; “Speech Competition ” the last date to submit is on 29th Nov,2023. The event was conducted on online mode . Through this, students got awareness about Power of voting and social value of their voting. There were total 20 students who enthusiastically participated in this event and learnt a valuable message from it that what is the main moto behind celebrating National voters Day which is celebrated every year on 25, january. Firstly, the Nodal officer Ms. Chahat Malhotra introduced about the key motive behind the Speech Competition and motivated the students to participate and share online video on the given mail ID. The students have been circulated with the flyer so that they can prepare the video of their speech and submitted on time.

The students learnt a valuable message that their voting helps Citizens become more involved in their government and keep it accountable. To vote ,you must meet specific requirements. In addition to voting, there are few laws that ensure fair elections around the World, so through this event they learnt all the things. The students also learnt that, the election is a handsome opportunity for political participation. Furthermore, it is a way by which new issues can be raised in public. In most democratic countries, common citizens are allowed to contest elections independently. Through this competition students learnt a valuable message that how they can increase the youth participation in electoral process and they also learnt that voting is a basic human right of every citizen of the country

In conclusion students got Aware about their voting rights and they also got motivated to give votes everytime for the betterment of the society and also for the welfare of their own. They got motivation also to make their friends and family members aware about their voting rights and celebrating Voters Day.
