Certificate Course in Public Speaking & Street Play

Preface:

In today's dynamic world, effective communication is a crucial skill. Our Public Speaking course is designed to help you become a confident and persuasive speaker. Whether you have an upcoming presentation, want to excel in debates, or simply desire to express yourself more confidently, this course is perfect for you. You will learn practical techniques to overcome stage fright, develop powerful body language, and master your vocal delivery. If you have a passion for theater and a desire to create social impact, our Street Play course is an incredible opportunity for you. Street Play, also known as street theater or mukkad natak, is a vibrant and unconventional form of performance that takes place in public spaces. Through this course, you will explore the rich history and significance of street theater while honing your artistic talents. Public Speaking will empower you to express yourself confidently and persuasively in any situation, while Street Play will unleash your creativity and enable you to make a difference through the arts.

Report:

Public speaking is an indispensable skill in today's interconnected world, enabling individuals to articulate ideas persuasively, inspire audiences, and foster meaningful connections. Street play, as a form of guerrilla theater, serves as a potent tool for social commentary, community engagement, and cultural expression. The course aimed to equip participants with advanced communication skills suitable for various professional contexts while fostering creativity and spontaneity through theatrical expression. The fusion of professional public speaking training with street play performance offers a holistic approach to communication skill development, fostering both verbal eloquence and creative expression. The course aimed to enhance students' communication skills, confidence, critical thinking abilities, and historical and social awareness. The course also focused on developing teamwork, social engagement, self-expression, creativity, and personal growth among the students. Participants reported significant growth in their communication skills, confidence levels, and creative expression abilities.
