Students presented on gender based violence event commenced with the screening of a relevant and impactful film that explored various dimensions of gender-based violence, including its root causes, societal implications, and the experiences of survivors. The film was selected based on its ability to provoke thought and evoke empathy while shedding light on the often overlooked aspects of GBV.

Students participated with enthusiasm and prepared presentations based on the theme. Students were motivated to take action to support and uplift the girl child through posters. They portrayed the importance of gender equality and the need to overcome gender-based discrimination.

The primary objective of the film screening and discussion was to raise awareness about gender-based violence (GBV) and stimulate discussion among participants to foster understanding and action towards combating this pervasive issue. By leveraging the power of film as a medium for storytelling, we aimed to engage the audience emotionally and intellectually, prompting reflection and discussion on the complexities surrounding GBV.
