Additional Information

At Tecnia, participative management is followed to obtain feedback from various stakeholders for assessing the quality of syllabus and its transactions, ambience and other relevant parameters. The stakeholders include students, teachers, alumni, employers, parents etc. To obtain feedback, the IQAC designs feedback forms in coordination with the Departments which contain carefully curated questions focusing on various aspects as mentioned above. The feedback forms are distributed among the stakeholders and the responses are collected from them. These responses are analyzed by senior faculty members who then provide recommendations to the competent authorities. After approval from the authorities, corresponding changes are implemented in the relevant areas and then an action taken report is prepared and uploaded on the Institute's website.
